

BUCKINGHAM HOME; RESIGNS PROMPTLY

Short Line Superintendent Prepares to Take New Position at Omaha.

FRICITION WITH CHICAGO CAUSE OF LEAVING

Has Been With Harriman Roads for Years; Has Other Offers.

Everett Buckingham, since 1904 general superintendent of the Oregon Short Line system and for the past thirty-six years continuously in the employ of Harriman on his different lines, Thursday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock sent in his resignation, as general superintendent, to W. H. Bancroft, vice-president and general manager of the Oregon Short Line.

Mr. Buckingham's resignation takes effect December 15. Late Thursday afternoon Vice-President Bancroft said that Mr. Buckingham's successor had not been decided upon. There is practically no question, however, but that J. M. Davis, assistant general superintendent of the Oregon Short Line, will be named to fill the general superintendent's chair. Mr. Davis is regarded as one of the coming operating men of the Western railroad world.

Will Go to Omaha. General Superintendent Buckingham will go to Omaha as general manager of the Union Stockyards company of that city after December 15. Mr. Buckingham would not make this statement positively yesterday, declaring only "he was being considered" for the position. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Union stockyards will be held next Monday in Omaha, at which time Mr. Buckingham's appointment is expected to be officially announced. From private sources here Thursday it was learned that there is practically no question that he will be chosen to fill the position.

Reason for Resigning. He leaves the Oregon Short Line because of criticism of his operating methods by the Chicago officials of the Harriman lines. "I am frank to say that I leave Mr. Harriman's employ as a result of my own belief that the Eastern officials of the Harriman lines and myself the past year over the operation of the Oregon Short Line," said Mr. Buckingham Thursday. "Those who have followed Western railroad development know of the immense increase in business for the roads and the thousands and one things we have had to contend with the past eighteen months in operation. A great deal of labor has played havoc with us, for one thing. With such conditions confronting us, congestion and delays were bound to come in the operating department. In my case, the things have been particularly unpleasant, and it is not true that any friction has ever existed or occurred between E. E. Calvin of the Southern Pacific and myself. The dismissal of Superintendent Costello of the Utah division of the Oregon Short Line figured considerably in the latest development of the trouble at the general office."

There has been a rather tense situation at the general office of the road here ever since Mr. Buckingham's determination to resign was known. The tension was tighter than ever Thursday when Mr. Buckingham arrived in town. Bancroft Didn't Know. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon Vice-President Bancroft was asked if General Superintendent Buckingham had resigned.

"I have not received his resignation; he is not in town—hasn't returned yet," was his reply. At that instant Mr. Buckingham was in his private office, forty feet from where Vice-President Bancroft was sitting, dictating his resignation. The latter evidenced considerable surprise when he was informed that his general superintendent was at that moment in his office. The resignation was delivered to Vice-President Bancroft a few minutes later.

Mr. Buckingham has practically retired from the duties of his office already. Thursday afternoon his office was bare of papers and had evidently been cleaned out ready for his successor.

Since Boy of Twelve. Mr. Buckingham has been continuously in the employ of the Harriman lines since he was a boy 12 years old. At that age he was working in the general office of the St. Joseph & Denver City road at St. Joseph, Mo. When that line was consolidated with the St. Joseph & Rock Island, a year later, Mr. Buckingham went to Omaha as a clerk in the car accountant's office. That was in 1880. He rose steadily year after year through various grades above him, until, in 1904, he was superintendent of car service on the Union Pacific. That year he was made general superintendent of the Oregon Short Line with offices in Salt Lake. He has lived here with his family since that time.

He is a member of practically all the downtown clubs and one of the best known and most popular railroad men in the intermountain country. General regret is felt among local railroad men over his prospective departure to Omaha.

The Flower Shop for cut flowers and designs. Under National Bank of Republic.

We Are Offering Exceptional money saving inducements for early Xmas shoppers. Meheys, the Furrier.

Automobile repairing, all work first-class. Prices reasonable. Telephone Bell 1850.

NEW LICENSE SYSTEM ORDINANCE COMPLETED

Provides for a Board of Equalization and Dispenses With Collectors.

THE NEW ORDINANCE CHANGING THE METHODS OF ASSESSING AND COLLECTING THE LICENSE TAXES OF THE CITY WILL BE PRESENTED TO THE CITY COUNCIL FOR APPROVAL NEXT MONDAY EVENING.

Under the new ordinance the City Auditor is made the assessor of taxes, but the proceeds will be paid into the office of the Treasurer, as usual. However, there will be no collectors as at present. Under the new mode of procedure the person desiring a license will make out a form, which will be presented to the Auditor, and the Auditor will fill in the amount of the tax. The applicant will then go to the office of the Treasurer, pay the amount due, and the City Recorder will issue the certificate of license.

There also will be a board of equalization to pass upon complaints that may be made. For example, a merchant may claim that his stock has been valued at too high a figure, and it will be the duty of the board of equalization to pass upon this and similar complaints.

An additional clause in the ordinance gives the city the chance of instituting civil proceedings for the collection of these taxes, instead of criminal proceedings, as is the mode under the old rule.

City Recorder Moreton will immediately ask for the presentation of bids for printing the new blanks and books. The blanks include applications for all classes of licenses, and the liquor license blank sets out that the license is issued under the provisions of the constitution and also under the provisions of the city ordinance, which provide that saloons must be kept closed on Sunday, that liquor must not be sold to minors, etc. There are also books and other blanks to be prepared.

New Mining Company. A certified copy of the minutes of incorporation of the Major Evans Consolidated Mining and Milling company of American Fork was filed in the office of the Secretary of State Thursday. The capitalization is $100,000, in 10-cent shares, and the officers are: John J. Jones, president; F. A. Jackson, secretary. These, with F. J. Adams and James H. Clarke, constitute the board of directors.

REED'S SHOOT HEADS NEW ONYX COMPANY. Joseph F. Smith Owns 15,000 Shares of the Stock Subscribed.

The Utah Onyx Development company filed articles of incorporation in the office of the Secretary of State Thursday. Reed Smoot is president; Thor Cederstrom, vice-president; John L. Nebeker, secretary and treasurer. The officers and J. William Knight and Oliver Cederstrom form the directorate. President Joseph F. Smith, of the Mormon church, is the largest stockholder, owning 15,000 shares of stock. The capitalization of the company is $20,000, in $1 shares. The company will develop onyx claims in Utah country.

A Man's Best Friend. Is his pair of Military Hair Brushes. We would like to show you a pair of solid backs in Ebony, Satinwood and Coco Bola, with splendid bristles; prices to suit every purse. F. J. HILL DRUG CO., "The Never Substitutors."

CASSIDY CATCHES A THIEF, WHO GETS AWAY. "The thief I didn't catch" would be an appropriate title for Policeman Cassidy's episode in the neighborhood of E and Brigham street Wednesday. The police officer was on duty in the vicinity of the porch climber in Salt Lake, but nothing has happened and the "copper" has longed for the downtown district with the hostile and malignant.

WHAT MR. LAWRENCE SAID. In the report of the speech made by Henry W. Lawrence at the silver meeting Wednesday night, Mr. Lawrence was made to say that the silver ratio in Europe had been from 115 to 150. In correcting this Mr. Lawrence said: "The facts are, our coinage of silver is at the rate of 16 to 1, making the value of the silver dollar in Europe is 15 to 1 value of silver—133c per ounce. In India 15 to 1 makes the coinage value 137c. North and South America is producing the most silver in the world. Europe is depending on America for their silver and we allow her to debase and set the price of our product."

Equitable Insurance Payments. Notice has been sent out by William Alexander, secretary of the Equitable Life Assurance society, that the collecting office of the company in Salt Lake will be discontinued, and all remittances on premium payments will be forwarded to the agency cashier in Denver. This move has been made with the view of cutting down expenses without interfering with the effectiveness of the organization.

"Frisked" Harada. The County Attorney issued a complaint against Jennie Lewis, Thursday, charging her with grand larceny. Jennie, who is a negro, living on Commercial street, is charged with "frisking" G. Harada, a Plunk ally restaurant keeper, of checks and money. Harada was asleep at the time of the alleged robbery.

Dr. Richards Gives Bond. Dr. Francis P. Richards, charged with performing a criminal operation on Mrs. James, appeared before Justice of the Peace E. M. Bishop, Thursday afternoon, and furnished bail in the sum of $1000. He was released. The physician will be arraigned before Justice Bishop at 2 o'clock this afternoon and will plead. His preliminary hearing then will be set.

McCull Gets Six Months. Louis McCull pleaded guilty to stealing a suit case from M. T. Beattie, at the Peace E. M. Bishop, Thursday afternoon, and was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail. McCull originally was charged with third-degree burglary, but agreed to plead guilty to petty larceny if that charge were substituted.

Ask for that new bread at your grocery, Vienna Walnut Bread.

REPRESENTATIVE MEN OF SALT LAKE DISCUSS PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE AND SILVER CONFERENCE

Representative men of Salt Lake were asked Thursday for their opinions on the President's message and the work of the silver conference at the Commercial club. The interviews follow:

W. S. McCormick—The President has expressed himself on almost every question that involved public welfare and now he seems to avoid the financial difficulty and throws it over into the hands of Congress. It would seem to be just the time for an expression of what was needed to relieve the stringency, something in the way of a suggestion, to be sure, but nevertheless something that could have been acted on or rejected.

Frank Knox—All consideration of just what form the plans for relief of the currency should take ought to be left to Congress. That is where it belongs. It is a large question and the President did the proper thing in turning the matter over to them.

W. J. Halloran—The question is a large one and the President probably thought it was the wisest thing to put its consideration entirely in the hands of Congress. It could be discussed in all its phases.

Thomas Homer—The President's message was disappointing in the way it dealt with the financial situation. I really expected that he would have some plan for a solution of the present difficulty. He had very definite plans for the solving of difficulties in the meat business, in the Northern Pacific merger case and in the affairs in which E. H. Harriman was interested, and yet at this time, when the country is all upset over the financial troubles, he has no suggestion at all to make.

David Keith—I have not read all the President's message to the country. So far as I am able to judge, however, it impresses me as a carefully prepared state paper, more conservative in tone than the public judging by previous utterances, could reasonably hope for. He appears to be willing that Congress alone should handle the financial situation and enact such measures as in its judgment will best meet the financial relief, to the extent that such relief can be reached through national legislation. But if this monetary agitation, which has been going on since the silver states alone, I doubt if the present effort will accomplish much good.

Senator Thomas Kearns—The President's message was no disappointment to me. It will restore no lost confidence. The financiers and capitalists of the country have absolutely no confidence in Roosevelt's policy. Large numbers of workmen have lost employment within the last sixty days through the President's policy. It will be fortunate if many more do not lose their employment in the future. In my opinion the President's policy has not only shaken the confidence of his own country, but the confidence of Europe also, by his vicious attacks on the many individuals and corporations of this country. I do not believe that the President's policy will restore confidence to the country back to normal conditions until after the next national convention.

I think the work started at the Commercial club some Wednesday night is aimed in the right direction. I think by united effort of the States that Congress will be able to pass legislation which will remedy the financial situation. Such legislation, while prudent and effective, could be made with safety so long as the country is in such a condition as the country finds itself in now and which are liable to recur in the future.

W. H. Bancroft, vice-president and general manager of the O. S. L.—I have not had time to read the President's message. I had an opinion of the President's message, but I have not had time to read it. I don't feel qualified to give you a statement.

I. A. Benton, general agent of the Rio Grande Western road at Salt Lake—I believe Roosevelt is dead right in his points.

T. R. Jones, United States S. R. & M. Co.—The President's message struck me as somewhat more conservative than usual, though without losing any of its energy or earnestness. I believe the tone of his message as regards the mining and smelting industry was favorable.

C. W. Whittier, manager A. S. & R. Co.—I have glanced at the message only. But until I can read it more thoroughly, and I will do, I would rather not express my opinion.

James A. Pollock—I fear I am not sufficiently in accord with the President's policies to give an unbiased opinion. The tone of it seems more conservative, or less strenuous, and rightly so, for I was to his unwelcome policies that the present unfavorable conditions are due. He has hurt a great many small stockholders, who were guiltless of wrongdoing. He has proceeded not on the theory that a man should be punished until he is ruined, but he has followed the theory that it is better to punish ninety-nine innocent men than to let one guilty man escape. I agree with him in the attempt to limit the capitalization of corporations within the bounds of their actual assets, and I have seen in favor of this for years.

John Dorn—I believe the President's message has been more favorably received by the public than some of his former messages, and I believe it will have a beneficial effect on the general business of the country. It takes twenty signers to secure a charter, and Captain Egan is sure that the necessary names will be secured before the close of the week.

The requisites of membership in this order are that a man should have served during the war of the Rebellion, and in an honorable manner from enlistment to discharge. Utah is among the few Northern States, if it is not the only Northern State, in which no chapter of the Loyal Legion has been organized, and there is ample material here for this purpose. Captain Egan, by the way, received three bullet wounds during the battle of Antietam.

One of the Delights. Of a man's toilet is the use of his Military Hair Brushes. Beautiful designs in leather cases or trays. Solid backs; splendid bristles. F. J. HILL DRUG CO., "The Never Substitutors."

Rummage Sale. Rummage sale, Fifth South and Seventh East, Saturday. Doors positively not open till 10.

BELL PHONE 5260. Henry Shipley, Commercial Photographer, 151 1/2 South Main. Phone 1174.

Far and Away. The greatest fur values in Salt Lake City today are found at Meheys' Fur Parlors, Knutsford Hotel.

Eat a Sirloln Steak. At Y. M. C. A. Cafe. Surprisingly good. McCoy's Stables. Carriages and light livery. Phone 81.

The Royal makes all kinds of bread in a clean bakery. Ask your grocer for it. The Crown label is on every loaf.

At Y. M. C. A. Cafe. Surprisingly good. McCoy's Stables. Carriages and light livery. Phone 81.

Joe Molander, the Italian who killed John Massa and severely wounded Dominic Asalle in an affray at Mercury, has so far escaped arrest. Sheriff A. O. Evans is handling the case, and says he thinks friends of Molander are concealing him, probably in Salt Lake.

According to Sheriff Evans, Massa and Asalle belonged to the race of Northern Italians and Molander was from the South. Feuds between the two are common, and Molander was feared by all his countrymen as a bad man. The occasion for the stabbing, so the story goes, was a quarrel over a woman.

Robert O. Corkhill of 114 West Fifth South street, represents the case of a scaffold on which he was working at 545 East Second South street, about 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, was precipitated to the earth twenty feet below and his skull was fractured in the fall. He is at the Holy Cross hospital, unconscious, and will die.

Corkhill was working at a cornice when the accident occurred. In the fall he was struck on the left back side of the head by a two-by-four, torn loose by the giving away of the scaffold.

A series of moving pictures, both serious and comic, selections by the orchestra, composed of the boys and girls of the church, and a variety of songs, were the feature of the evening. Both the serious and the comic selections were well given and appreciated by the audience.

A Punch and Judy show by B. Robinson was the feature of the evening. Both the serious and the comic selections were well given and appreciated by the audience.

A series of moving pictures, both serious and comic, selections by the orchestra, composed of the boys and girls of the church, and a variety of songs, were the feature of the evening. Both the serious and the comic selections were well given and appreciated by the audience.

Arrested three times in as many days is the record of Gus Holten, demented. He was arrested by the police three times in as many days. He was charged with being a vagrant and was released. The police threaten to turn him over to the lunatic commission and have him sent to Provo if he comes back the fourth time.

Hollen in the matter of smiles, is said to be a fit candidate for membership in the Optimist club. Despite his torn and tattered appearance, he has a smile that won't come off. He is clothed in a straw hat and a pair of home-made sandals, through which his bare toes protrude. Peeking through the top of his "lid" is a thin wisp of hair, but Holten doesn't appear to mind the season's crowding in the matter of clothes.

Y. M. C. A. Cafe—best in Salt Lake. Make Your Fur Wants. Known at Meheys' Fur Parlors. Unlimited supply to select from. Knutsford Hotel.

To Visit Canyon Road. As many members of the City Council as can do so will take a trip Monday afternoon over the Canyon road, which the Emigration Canyon railroad is seeking a franchise. The road will be a branch of the main line, the eastern line of the city limits and run to Elgin. From there the road will run to Emigration canyon.

Electrical Inspection. An effort will be made to pass the new electrical inspection ordinance at next Monday evening's session of the City Council. The new ordinance will give the city electrical engineer supervision over all electrical appliances in the city.

Do Not Fail. To take advantage of the two remaining days of Meheys' special fur sale, Knutsford Hotel.

Loose Leaf Devices. Tribune-Reporter Ptg. Co., 66 W. 2nd St. S.

FORMING CHAPTER OF LOYAL LEGION IN UTAH

Captain Egan Is Sure a Charter Membership Will Be Secured.

An effort is being made by the old soldiers of Salt Lake City and Ogden to form a Utah chapter of the military order of the Loyal Legion. Captain Egan, with offices in the Walker Bank building, is circulating a petition on which were attached Thursday the names of fifteen veterans who are eligible for the honor of membership. It takes twenty signers to secure a charter, and Captain Egan is sure that the necessary names will be secured before the close of the week.

The requisites of membership in this order are that a man should have served during the war of the Rebellion, and in an honorable manner from enlistment to discharge. Utah is among the few Northern States, if it is not the only Northern State, in which no chapter of the Loyal Legion has been organized, and there is ample material here for this purpose. Captain Egan, by the way, received three bullet wounds during the battle of Antietam.

One of the Delights. Of a man's toilet is the use of his Military Hair Brushes. Beautiful designs in leather cases or trays. Solid backs; splendid bristles. F. J. HILL DRUG CO., "The Never Substitutors."

Rummage Sale. Rummage sale, Fifth South and Seventh East, Saturday. Doors positively not open till 10.

BELL PHONE 5260. Henry Shipley, Commercial Photographer, 151 1/2 South Main. Phone 1174.

Far and Away. The greatest fur values in Salt Lake City today are found at Meheys' Fur Parlors, Knutsford Hotel.

Eat a Sirloln Steak. At Y. M. C. A. Cafe. Surprisingly good. McCoy's Stables. Carriages and light livery. Phone 81.

The Royal makes all kinds of bread in a clean bakery. Ask your grocer for it. The Crown label is on every loaf.

At Y. M. C. A. Cafe. Surprisingly good. McCoy's Stables. Carriages and light livery. Phone 81.

Joe Molander, the Italian who killed John Massa and severely wounded Dominic Asalle in an affray at Mercury, has so far escaped arrest. Sheriff A. O. Evans is handling the case, and says he thinks friends of Molander are concealing him, probably in Salt Lake.

According to Sheriff Evans, Massa and Asalle belonged to the race of Northern Italians and Molander was from the South. Feuds between the two are common, and Molander was feared by all his countrymen as a bad man. The occasion for the stabbing, so the story goes, was a quarrel over a woman.

Robert O. Corkhill of 114 West Fifth South street, represents the case of a scaffold on which he was working at 545 East Second South street, about 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, was precipitated to the earth twenty feet below and his skull was fractured in the fall. He is at the Holy Cross hospital, unconscious, and will die.

Corkhill was working at a cornice when the accident occurred. In the fall he was struck on the left back side of the head by a two-by-four, torn loose by the giving away of the scaffold.

A series of moving pictures, both serious and comic, selections by the orchestra, composed of the boys and girls of the church, and a variety of songs, were the feature of the evening. Both the serious and the comic selections were well given and appreciated by the audience.

A Punch and Judy show by B. Robinson was the feature of the evening. Both the serious and the comic selections were well given and appreciated by the audience.

A series of moving pictures, both serious and comic, selections by the orchestra, composed of the boys and girls of the church, and a variety of songs, were the feature of the evening. Both the serious and the comic selections were well given and appreciated by the audience.

Arrested three times in as many days is the record of Gus Holten, demented. He was arrested by the police three times in as many days. He was charged with being a vagrant and was released. The police threaten to turn him over to the lunatic commission and have him sent to Provo if he comes back the fourth time.

Hollen in the matter of smiles, is said to be a fit candidate for membership in the Optimist club. Despite his torn and tattered appearance, he has a smile that won't come off. He is clothed in a straw hat and a pair of home-made sandals, through which his bare toes protrude. Peeking through the top of his "lid" is a thin wisp of hair, but Holten doesn't appear to mind the season's crowding in the matter of clothes.

Y. M. C. A. Cafe—best in Salt Lake. Make Your Fur Wants. Known at Meheys' Fur Parlors. Unlimited supply to select from. Knutsford Hotel.

To Visit Canyon Road. As many members of the City Council as can do so will take a trip Monday afternoon over the Canyon road, which the Emigration Canyon railroad is seeking a franchise. The road will be a branch of the main line, the eastern line of the city limits and run to Elgin. From there the road will run to Emigration canyon.

Electrical Inspection. An effort will be made to pass the new electrical inspection ordinance at next Monday evening's session of the City Council. The new ordinance will give the city electrical engineer supervision over all electrical appliances in the city.

Do Not Fail. To take advantage of the two remaining days of Meheys' special fur sale, Knutsford Hotel.

Loose Leaf Devices. Tribune-Reporter Ptg. Co., 66 W. 2nd St. S.

At Y. M. C. A. Cafe. Surprisingly good. McCoy's Stables. Carriages and light livery. Phone 81.

The Royal makes all kinds of bread in a clean bakery. Ask your grocer for it. The Crown label is on every loaf.

DAY BEGINS HIS LAST WEEK OF LIFE

Reads Psalms and Faber's Hymns With His Spiritual Counselor.

WANTS HIS FRIENDS TO BID HIM GOOD-BYE

Has Written Farewell Letters to Relatives, but Omits His Father.

Albert T. Day, sentenced to be shot to death next Friday for the murder of H. H. Voss, received several visitors in his prison cell at the Utah state penitentiary Thursday, and appeared to be considerably strengthened by their presence. He was more quiet and contented Thursday than any other day since he received his final doom.

The Rev. John H. Allen, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, with Mrs. Allen, again visited Day Thursday and spent a half hour with him. Most of the time was passed in reading hymns and the Bible. The hymns were from Father Faber's collection of sacred music, while the Bible readings were from the Psalms. Day appeared to find special solace in the hymns, and the minister later left the book with him. Two of the hymns were "Paradise," and "The Land Beyond the Sea." The Bible readings related to the mercy of the Deity.

Another service the Rev. Mr. Allen performed for Day was to send letters to his brothers telling them of his approaching fate. One brother, H. C. Day, lives at Denmark, Texas, and the other, only a half brother, A. Anderson, at Giddings, Texas.

Day has not mentioned his father, who remarried shortly after his mother's recent death. So far as known he is in ignorance of his son's fate, and the word of it has been conveyed to him by one of Day's brothers. The father lives in Anderson county, Texas.

Washington, negro, and R. G. Schuler, and A. G. Ellis, Jr., of the firm of Dickson, Ellis & Schuler, who represented Day before the pardon board in the showing of a commutation of his sentence. The attorneys, except Day to hope for the best in the few minutes they spent with him. Day continues to eat little and smoke none. He has asked that all his friends visit and bid him farewell before his execution.

The Rev. Mr. Allen will call on him again Saturday.

Striking Display of Fine Instruments. Ordinarily it is the art of the window dresser that attracts the attention of the passerby, but in the case of an upper Main street music house art of a different nature is the attraction. It is art in pianos, for the entire window is given to the showing of two beautiful one of rich mahogany and the other a handsomely carved design of the same wood. Overhead is a sign which relates the fact that a sale is on, and in inquiry in the store brings a narrative reply to the question whether or not these beautiful instruments are included in the price cutting. At this establishment, Carstenen & Asen's, as shown many other fine pianos, and the effort to turn stock into cash or acceptable paper, which from appearance, is fast being accomplished, and while it is the intention of the management to have the sale continue in every way possible, it will be necessary to do so, as great crowds have already been made and the season's lines will probably all be gone sooner than expected. In closing, this big display of instruments.

MATIEVICH CHANGES NAME AND TAKES TOM BROWN. Judge Armstrong has entered an order permitting Tom Matievich to change his name to Tom Brown. Matievich represented to the court that he was an Austrian and that his name was a hindrance to his business as an American people, hence he desired to change it to something more American, and as he is called Tommy Brown by his friends he wished the new name to stick.

In the Struggle Everlasting. Which we maintain in a successful attempt to keep a little ahead of the times in anticipating the wants of buyers who are ambitious to have the finest houses on Ninth avenue. In doing so we were given to understand that the street car extension on the street would be completed before 1908.

Now we find that nothing will be done until spring and for that reason our plans were possibly a little premature. But home buyers are to receive the benefit for these houses may be had cheaper than they will be later owing to the temporary delay in this improvement.

We want you to see these houses, you can get the keys at 458 C street in order to examine these beautiful homes. We want your opinions about them, even if we do know in advance what they will be, and we want to sell you a home on long time payments.

SALT LAKE SECURITY & TRUST CO. 32-34 Main Street. The Greatest Dollar. For dollar value is in Meheys' Fur Parlors, Knutsford Hotel.

Removal. Watrous, the carpenter: We have removed from 67 East Third South, to 240 Franklin avenue. Both phones.

Charged With Insanity. Information having been received that O'Neill, who is in the office of the County Clerk, is a patient at the Holy Cross hospital, and Hollenhead is a resident of Murray.

Eat a Sirloln Steak. At Y. M. C. A. Cafe. Surprisingly good. McCoy's Stables. Carriages and light livery. Phone 81.

The Royal makes all kinds of bread in a clean bakery. Ask your grocer for it. The Crown label is on every loaf.

At Y. M. C. A. Cafe. Surprisingly good. McCoy's Stables. Carriages and light livery. Phone 81.

Joe Molander, the Italian who killed John Massa and severely wounded Dominic Asalle in an affray at Mercury, has so far escaped arrest. Sheriff A. O. Evans is handling the case, and says he thinks friends of Molander are concealing him, probably in Salt Lake.

According to Sheriff Evans, Massa and Asalle belonged to the race of Northern Italians and Molander was from the South. Feuds between the two are common, and Molander was feared by all his countrymen as a bad man. The occasion for the stabbing, so the story goes, was a quarrel over a woman.

Robert O. Corkhill of 114 West Fifth South street, represents the case of a scaffold on which he was working at 545 East Second South street, about 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, was precipitated to the earth twenty feet below and his skull was fractured in the fall. He is at the Holy Cross hospital, unconscious, and will die.

Corkhill was working at a cornice when the accident occurred. In the fall he was struck on the left back side of the head by a two-by-four, torn loose by the giving away of the scaffold.

A series of moving pictures, both serious and comic, selections by the orchestra, composed of the boys and girls of the church, and a variety of songs, were the feature of the evening. Both the serious and the comic selections were well given and appreciated by the audience.